

Peter Scott

Peter Scott is passionate about purpose, people and performance. His talent is in working with leaders and their teams to discover and realise full potential, optimise well-being and achieve superior performance in meaningful endeavours.

Coaching philosophy and approach

Natural curiosity and authenticity enable Peter to establish rapport and build the trust essential to an effective coaching alliance and enduring relationship. His ability to challenge clients' perceptions creates opportunity for insight and growth. His capacity to support without judgement inspires the courage and compassion within his clients to make wise decisions, take action and realise valued outcomes.

Adopting a systemic perspective, Peter takes a strengths and solution-focussed, developmental approach to coaching. An evidence-based practitioner of applied positive psychology, he adapts his high-calibre service to meet the needs of clients, incorporating current research and ongoing professional supervision. Peter unleashes the courage, compassion and wisdom of leaders.

Facilitation and highly effective teams

Peter is an executive coach and leadership development professional with over 35 years' experience leading specialist teams in complex and demanding environments.

Industry knowledge and experience

Thriving on challenge, his leadership and management skills were honed through a journey to the peak of an elite profession. As a purposeful and highly effective senior executive, Peter built an enviable track record of turning potential into performance and strategy into reality.

Peter has special interests in assisting clients to develop their strategic leadership, build resilience and achieve successful transitions; particularly in the defence and other high-stakes sectors. He provides executive coaching services to the senior leadership of the Australian Defence Force as a principal coach through the Navy's Strategic Leadership Program.
